of the
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK (Foley Square)

GLEN ROBINSON, Jr
Petitioner,

VS.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Respondent,

Criminal Action No. #: 1:17-cr-000124-PAE-1.

MOTION FOR RELIEF FROM JUDGMENT OR ORDER PURSUANT TO Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 60.(b),(6) AND
The 8th & 14th AMENDMENTS TO THE United States Constitution

INTRODUCTION

Comes the petitioner, Glen Robinson, JR, Pro-Se, and moves this court to relieve him of the remainder of his sentence pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 60(b), 60(d)(1), The Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution. In support of this petition, the Petitioner states the following:

REASON FOR REQUESTED RELIEF

1. Under Federal Civil Rule 60(b), the court has jurisdiction to enter an order relieving a party or its legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for any [....] other reason that justifies relief.
2. New York Appellate courts have interpreted this to reserve the right for the courts to modify or vacate a judgment Where a significant change in circumstances shall have occurred. See. Benjamin v. Malcolm, 528 F. Supp. 925, 928 (S.D.N.Y. 1981).
3. Due to incarceration, petitioner and the community at large are

- at increased risk of contracting SARS-CoV2 (COVID-19) a novel virus, which poses a large risk to public health that may be alleviated, in part, by release of persons from confinement in part, by release of persons from confinement in close quarters.
4. As of March 31, 2020, there are over 800,000 confirmed cases of the virus and over 35,000 deaths worldwide, and there are presently over 400 confirmed cases in Kentucky. Current statistics will likely be worse as of the filing of this motion as those numbers are increasing on a daily basis.
 5. The special vulnerability of prisons and jails to infectious disease, and particularly Covid-19, is readily apparent from the outbreak of the virus in China. Covid-19 suddenly "exploded" once it entered China's prison system. According to the World Health Organization (WHO), the virus was first detected in Wuhan China on December 31, 2019. As of February 25, in just the prison system, there were 555 confirmed infections in five prisons of Three provinces-Hubei, Shandong, and Zhejiang'
 6. In the United States, as of March 31, 2020, the virus had entered the federal corrections system, resulting in at least one confirmed inmate death, as well as multiple state and local systems across the country including Florida, Texas, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York and Washington State.² In Kentucky there have been at least four (4) Department of Corrections personnel who have tested positive for the virus, including one medical staff at Green River Correctional Complex, located in Kentucky , who had contact with inmates.³ This situation is only likely to worsen for the near future, both globally and in Kentucky.

7. Incarcerated persons are unable to take many of the precautions recommended and demanded for others, in order to protect themselves against contracting the disease. Prominent health professionals are calling for the release of inmates who cannot protect themselves from infection even as all other citizens are being ordered to take the precautions. As a result, public officials across the country are taking steps to release inmates from incarceration.⁴
8. Additionally, there is not, at present, an adequate mechanism for the virus, testing staff who are entering and leaving the jails every day, or testing new arrestees who will be entering the prison population. The Center for Disease Control's website currently states that: the onset and duration of viral shedding and period of infectiousness are not fully known.⁵ This means neither petitioner nor any other corrections staff that may come in contact with him/her would know if they might be an asymptomatic carrier of COVID-19 until it is too late.
9. "A court considering an Eighth Amendment Challenge to conditions of confinement must examine the totality of the circumstances. Even if no single condition of confinement would be unconstitutional in itself, 'exposure to the cumulative effect of prison conditions

- may subject inmates to cruel and unusual punishment.'" Rhodes v. Chapman, 452 U.S. 337, 362-63 (1981) (citation omitted).
10. "[Prison] [c]onditions must not involve the wanton and unnecessary infliction of pain, nor they may be grossly disproportionate to the severity of the crime warranting imprisonment." Rhodes, 452 U.S. at 347. The "deliberate indifference to serious medical needs of prisoners constitutes the 'unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain' proscribed by Eighth Amendment." Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104 (1976) (citation omitted).
 11. Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 60(b)(6) allows for courts to alter, amend, or vacate a judgment for any reason the court determines is a "significant change in circumstances." Benjamin v. Malcolm, 528 F. Supp. 1925, 1928 (2nd Cir. S.D.N.Y. 1981). As argued above, it would certainly be a manifest injustice to subject an individual to potentially contracting such a dangerous virus, which could lead to permanent serious medical issues or even death.
 12. Petitioner's continued incarceration under these circumstances is a cruel and unusual punishment by the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments, because it places him ~~at~~ at a much higher risk of infection due to continued confinement. Additionally, during the confinement period, Petitioner would not be able to avail himself of the Health and Safety practices not only highly recommended by medical professionals, but demanded by those in positions of authority in our government, necessary to protect himself from likely exposure to, and unnecessary spread of, COVID-19.

13. Petitioner is a Non-violent offender and would not pose a risk to the state or his community if he were granted this relief in being able to save his life and limb. On May 17, 2017 in the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, Honorable Judge, Paul A. Engelmayer, entered his judgment upon Petitioner (Glen Robinson), (Hereinafter Mr. Robinson), imposing a sentence of (30) Thirty Months for the following crime:

PRODUCES/TRAFFICS
IN COUNTERFEIT DEVICE
(ACCESS DEVICE FRAUD)
(1) 18:1029A.F

and incarcerating him under the eminent threat of a pandemic will only create a substantial risk that Mr. Robinson may be subjected to contracting the Coronavirus through continued detention in unsafe conditions of confinement.

Mr. Robinson is currently under the Jurisdiction of the State of Kentucky, for crimes in which he was convicted of that are unrelated to the cases before this Honorable Court. See Custody Time Credit Form. On or about November 20th, 2020, Mr. Robinson's sentence will be ended as he will be turned over to the care of the Federal United States Marshalls, for transport to federal custody on the above mentioned charges to serve his sentence.

During his incarceration at the Northpoint Training Center located at P.O. Box # 479, Burgin, Kentucky 40310, He has managed to apply himself in seeking rehabilitative programs that will help him to curb the flow of reoffending and returning to prison.

The programs listed below, are as stated:

- 1) Substance Abuse Program
- 2) P.O.R.T.A.L. New Directions Program
- 3) Life Without A Crutch Program

- 4) Inside Outside Dads Program
- 5) Supporting Others In Active Recovery Program
- 6) Moral Reconciliation Therapy Program
- 7) Soft Skills Boot Camp Program, and
- 8) Moral Reconciliation Therapy-Anger Management

See Certificates attached.

14. Mr. Robinson's criminal history though voluminous, is not at all reflective of the person that he truly is. Releasing Mr. Robinson on some type of court ordered Home Incarceration Program, Probation, or other form of conditional release, would not unduly depreciate the criminal acts that he has committed. If anything, It will aid in slowing the spread of this deadly virus and allow for Robinson to practice the Social Distancing rules laid out by the (CDC) Center for Disease and Control Procedures, and the (WHO) World Health Organization.
15. Though Mr. Robison does not currently complain of having any symptoms of the Novel coronavirus, does not speak to the high volume of cases that exist here in the state of Kentucky. Risking transport to any correctional facility, would definately create a cruel and unusual punishment upon Mr. Robinson, because we do not know if he is asymptomatic, or would contract the virus through inmate to inmate, or Officer to inmate contact.
16. Mr. Robinson has served (3) months & (13) days of his (30) month term of imprisonment and has (24) months left to serve. We would that this Honorable court would take into consideration placing him in custody, would potentially cause Irreparable Harm likely to cause death or spread of infections to other officials or inmates within the New York Department of Corrections. In Winter v. NRDC, Inc., 555 U.S. 7 (S. Ct. 2008) at 20., it states that: "Petitioner must establish he is likely to suffer irreparable harm in the absence of relief." "To satisfy this factor, petitioner must make a clear showing of irreparable harm and the required irreparable harm must be neither remote nor speculative, but actual and eminent." Scotts Co. v. United Indus. Corp., 315 F. 3d 264, 283 (4th Cir. 2002). Jails are alot smaller and less sanitized than other facilities and are overcrowded. placing Mr. Robinson at any hold-over while awaiting transportation to the Jurisdiciton of this court, makes the chances "greater" for him to contract the virus. United States v. Stephens, 15-CR-95, 2020 (S.D.N.Y. 2020).

17. Mr. Robinson is a 32 year old African American Male, Who is (3) times more likely to contract the Coronavirus than any other race according to information delivered by the (CDC) and (WHO) organizations. With such minimal amount of time to serve under the imposition of his sentence handed down by this court, It would be counter-productive to continue to incarcerate him while being under extraordinary circumstances justifying relief.
18. Mr. Robinson is willing to "Self-Quarantine" for the minimum (14) day period or longer, and comply with any court stipulated orders that this court may deem necessary in granting his motion to amend the final judgment in this case under Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 60(b)(6), The Eighth & Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.
19. Finally, unlike while being housed at the Northpoint Training Center, If petitioner were to be released, he would be able to follow the proper guidelines and have control over his own social distancing in order to prevent contracting the virus and spreading it to others.

Petitioner would reside at #7306 Erskine Street. Richmond Virginia 23228, with his father Glen Robinson Sr. If the court would allow, petitioner would seek employment wherever he can find such and maintaining civil order while doing so. Also, Mr. Robinson understands that he will be subjected to isolation and monitoring at the location by the Department of Corrections probation and parole during any potential period of probation.

20. The petitioner is only requesting suspension of his final final sentence, conversion of his sentence to Home Incarceration, or some other form of modification of their final sentence. Petitioner is not requesting that his final judgment be vacated.

CONCLUSION

21. WHEREFORE, the petitioner request this Honorable Court to grant his motion to suspend further execution of his sentence, or in the alternative, allow Home Incarceration or probation, or for any other relief that petitioner is entitled to as a matter of law.
